CULTURE

We are grateful to 4culture, the King County Cultural Services Agency, for their support in the preservation of our heritage.

I grew up in a small town in Iowa, in a parsonage family, but I've lived in Washington State over half of my life. I moved to Seattle in 1981, living in Kirkland, and have had a long career in social work, mostly in health care, spending many years with Evergreen Health. I've worked with Evergreen Hospice since 2004.

My husband Art and I, with our Mini-Schnauzer Molly, moved to Duvall two years ago to focus on walkability, community and affordable retirement. I'm now semi-retired and work per diem at hospice homecare.

I enjoy writing, walking, reading and singing. I have had a long interest in oral history. Thank you, Duvall Historical Society for allowing me to practice the art of interviewing and capturing oral histories for our amazing long term Duvall residents.

2018 Snohomish County Fruit Society Pruning Workshop

Take the terror out of pruning fruit trees with instructions that shows how to approach the task, and reduces the number of difficult decisions needed. Greg Giuliani and Randy Lee will be teaming up again to give a hands-on pruning workshop of apple and pear trees at the Dougherty Farmstead in Duvall on Saturday, February 17th 2018 from 10am to 12pm. The Dougherty Farmstead is a restored historical farm (circa 1888) with some of the oldest standing structures in the Snoqualmie River Valley. Last year Greg did year 1 renovative pruning on a very old pear tree as well as some pruning on several smaller apple trees. Join the Snohomish County Fruit Society, Greg, and Randy as they tackle year 2 on the pear tree (out of a 3-year plan) as well as several other trees on the property.

Please sign up using the link (below and on the DHS website/Facebook page) so we can plan appropriately for group size and so that we can notify you if there are any changes to the workshop (ie. alterations due to weather). Thanks!

Parking: just southeast of the Farmstead on Cherry Valley Road (opposite side of the road from the farm) there is a school - you can park in their parking lot and walk across the road to the Farmstead. There is some limited parking immediately at the farmstead. Please note that Cherry Valley Road has two sections which do not connect.  You want to turn off of Hwy 203 onto the southern section of CV Rd, just north of Duvall (versus just south of Monroe).

Bring: Each attendee should bring their own pruning tools as well as weather appropriate clothing.

Soldiers in Petticoats: The Struggles of the Suffragettes

Monday, April 2nd 2018 7:30pm

Duvall Visitor and Community Center
15619 Main Street, Duvall

Enjoy this lecture by actress, historian and instructor Tames Alan as she appears in the authentic clothing of a suffragette. Tames brings to life the suffragettes their struggles, and their influence on major issues of their era, such as child labor laws, workers' rights, and the legal status of women.
