Quinn Burford Completes Eagle Scout Project

CULTURE

We are grateful to 4culture, the King County Cultural Services Agency, for their support in the preservation of our heritage.

Quinn Burford, a 17-year-old “soon to be” Senior at Cedarcrest High School has recently completed his Eagle Scout project at the Dougherty Farmstead located at 26524 NE Cherry Valley Road in Duvall. Eagle Scout is the highest achievement or rank attainable in the Boy Scouting program. When asked what drew him to the task, Quinn replied, “I wanted to be able to prove to people that I am a real Boy Scout. For some reason I don’t think people respect scouts as much if they don’t have their Eagle.”

Quinn is a member of Boy Scout Troop 745 and actively participates with Venture Crew 215 on trips. Quinn met with the City in April 2017 to begin plans for a project that would give a lasting benefit to the community. For his project, he chose to construct an informational kiosk on site at the Farmstead. The kiosk will provide an opportunity to display general information for the site and upcoming activities.

He managed and encouraged a group of volunteers who completed 224.80 of man hours to the project. Working with people to schedule work parties helped him develop management skills.

Quinn is active in his High School Robotics Club and Band. After graduating he would like to attend the University of Washington or Colorado School of Mines for a degree in mechanical engineering.

Thanks to the following volunteers:

Ben Tisdale, Bill Kristiansen, Clayton Kristiansen, Denis Cutter, Gage Hawkins, Ian Burford, Ikaika Ward, Jaime Kemper, Jake Tisdale, Jamey Tisdale, Justin Tobin, Noah Massengill, Quinn Burford, Sam Cutter, Todd Massengill, Zach Tisdale.

The Duvall Historical Society is looking local Depression Era photos and items such as letters. If anyone has any they would be willing to share with us, they can contact us through our website. We can scan the items and return them promptly. Please let us know!

New Intern in Spotlight

Dana Svitavsky, a Western Washington history major is interning with the Duvall Historical Society this summer. She is organizing, inventorying, and protecting our archival documents. Thank you, Dana!

Dana: I'm Dana Svitavsky. I'm excited to be interning at the Duvall Historical Society. I'm from the Carnation area and I graduated from Cedarcrest High School in 2016. I attend Western Washington University where I'm majoring in history. I plan to peruse a master's degree in Archival studies and Library science, which led to me asking to intern here. This internship also fulfils one of the requirements for the minor in public history that I'm completing. I look forward to working at the historical society this summer.
